Chameleon - Composition

Functions

Functions transform sets of numbers into other sets of numbers. Preferred, these transformations satisfy meaningful relations and create an expressive, interpretable, and flexible family.

transformations, operators, composition, domain/codomain, model flow, graph, parametrized families

- ▲ Inputs are transformed step by step into outputs by meaningful functions.
- ▼ Domains and codomains do not align; invalid or uninterpretable outputs.
- ▶ Think of the target card explicitly as a function from input to output.
