World Inventory

The inventory of what is present prior to explanation. Not as formalized objects, but as nature, people, artifacts, randomness, and surroundings. It catalogues presences whether central or peripheral, natural or made.

entities, presence, substrate, environment, people, machines, randomness, surroundings, context

- ▲ Grounds inquiry in what is concretely present; broadens awareness.
- ▼ Turns into mere listing with unclear importance.
- ▶ Describe the target card in terms of what is present around or within.

"What is there before I decide what matters?"

Ground. Weather. Stones. A campfire and tealeaves in cups. Surprises among trees. Tools continuing where they were left. And so much more.
