

Surroundings

Adjacent Elements

Surroundings

Source - Elements

Adjacent Elements

The Surroundings are everything near the phenomenon. The spatial, temporal or contextual vicinity, neighboring structures, and adjacent activity shape outcomes without taking center stage.

conceptual adjacency, spatiotemporal context, boundary conditions, indirect influence

Uncover important external factors.

Dilute focus by emphasizing the irrelevant.

Explain what is central and what is peripheral to target card.

"What do I consider inside and outside the phenomenon?"

Something occupies the center. It is present but indistinct. It is small. Everything else is not.