Heterogeneous data

Multiple patterns are present at once. Distinct regimes coexist spatially or structurally, producing a composite appearance. Any single explanation is incomplete. The truth is multiplicity.

mixture models, multimodality, coexistence, superposition, heterogeneity, different regimes

Recognition of superposition and mechanistic plurality.

Each observation assigned its own explanation. Meaning and unification abandoned both.

Interpret target card as composed of multiple mechanisms.

"What if multiple irreconcilable explanations are true simultaneously?"

Multiple formation types present in close proximity. Evidence supports incompatible interpretations. Descriptive unification failed.
