Character faults

This is mental drift over time without betrayal. Pride, fear, impatience, greed, anger: not sins in isolation, but slow pressures that warp your intent for the model. Invisible to name as model components yet still there.

cognitive vices, overconfidence, motivated reasoning, avoidance, excess complexity, affect-driven design ▲ Reveals limits and cost of sustained intent.

▼ Rationalizes model faults as necessity or efficiency.

▶ Inspect where the target card deviates from your stated aim.

"Where did I adjust my standards without noticing?"

Your will bends the model. Reality bends you. You bend your will.
